Join Microsoft Teams Meeting

We will be discussing video 2 and 3 this week (Ch. 2 and 3). If you haven't read it or watched the videos, that is ok, come anyway! You can catch up over the weekend with the reading and we'd love to see you.

Videos have been posted on our website at www.hveslibrary.weebly.com. I've also included links at the bottom of this newsletter.

I've added video 4 (Ch. 4) and I will be adding 5 and 6 over the weekend, so keep going back to our website if you want to get ahead! **It looks like there is a tech issue with the 4th video, I will try to rerecord and upload over the weekend but leave it here for now in case you want to listen/watch anyway. Check the website for a new video soon!

What Are The Benefits to Reading 20 min a Day?

All of our videos are at least 20 min. so you can get your 20 min./day of reading in! This graphic shows how important those 20 min. are! Reading benefits ALL aspects of school and life.

Audiobooks Promote Literacy

Neuroscience shows that language processing in the brain is the same when reading or listening.

AUDIOBOOKS...

- Present rich & varied vocabulary in context
- Provide models of skillful & fluent reading
- Allow readers at different levels access to the same book
- Enhance enjoyment of literature
- Offer authentic voices that promote the value of cultural diversity

Are Audiobooks Cheating?

Parents often wonder if listening to an audiobook, or a book read aloud, is as beneficial as reading the actual book. Lots of research has been done in that area and the benefits are numerous!

Morgan Gariepy, summarized it best in her article linked below, "Audiobooks are not the easy way out, and are certainly not cheating. Instead, they are a useful tool for struggling readers, a resource for advanced readers to expand their abilities even further, and a format that adapts well to busy schedules."

For more info on the benefits of audiobooks here are a few articles.
